Construction Project Update

January 24, 2023

PROGRESS UPDATE

The New Year has brought new work to the Andrew Weil Center for Integrative Medicine jobsite. Steel erection has begun (and finished) on the Multi-Purpose Building and has begun on the Office Building.

PROGRESS UPDATE

To aid in the steel erection on the office building a mobile crane has been brought to site and can be seen on the jobsite camera.

Keep up with the project in real-time by looking at the live footage on the UA PDC website.
